THE SEEDS OF WISDOM

My Beloved Children of Heart,

“Greetings! Welcome to this gathering of hearts.

As with all of our gatherings, we begin with a connection to our heart. This is the place of wisdom, of great love and of the divine truth of self.

We begin today with a focus on the many opportunities presenting to you for great advancements in your personal journey of progression. Yes indeed, you are on a journey designed to gently lead you back to the full awareness of the truth of yourself.

It is an exciting journey filled with opportunities to develop and expand, perhaps even beyond what you have dreamed of. Now at this position, in this time, much is being made available so that you can stretch to reach as you choose into the greater connections of awareness you have desired.

It truly is a time to celebrate yourself. You have collectively chosen this time to reach that position of greater potentials of knowing truth.

As you develop your greater awareness, you will be led to pathways filled with great discoveries. These experiences will assist you to learn, and to develop further your abilities to expand and elevate your consciousness. This then leads to even greater awareness and the development of wisdom and understanding, Wisdom is the ultimate connection to divine truth. It is also the way to utilize knowledge in great understanding based upon heart consciousness, based upon divine love.

Your heart consciousness leads you to the truth, free of illusion formations within the field of duality. The heart leads you back into the oneness of self, your sacred truth of self which lives in the forever realms of joy, love and serenity.

Wisdom is a key to developing the innate master abilities that you have. These are gifts that each of you have and are developed by yourself in your choosing and time of readiness.

You might have the question come to mind, “how can I develop wisdom while I feel uncertainty of my life and of my future, for I am living in a world that feels the struggles of life?” It is an interesting thought is it not.

Let me share with you first that you have within you the seeds of wisdom. These were planted before you incarnated into this life.

Now in this frame of time, these seeds are beginning to awaken. Just as the seeds of your dreams are lighting up, so are the seeds of wisdom. They are taking in the lightness and beginning to blossom.

You will find that these seeds will speak to you as little whisperings to your mind. They will come to you in peaceful moments. They will come to you in moments of joy.

They come through the heart. The heart consciousness awareness is stimulated during peace and joy. So this is the timing when you will hear and be aware most of wisdom.

Wisdom will come as little insights. Thoughts of suggestions perhaps of a different perspective on how to proceed with a project, or how to respond to an interaction with a family member to create a more harmonious relationship

Wisdom has knowledge and understanding flavored by the heart. Our hearts are based in the truth of our divine nature which is unconditional love.

Loving is the key to everything divine. It is the answer to all resolutions. It is the way back to fully remembering your divine self.

Wisdom assists us by steering us in the direction that will guide you onto the pathways of light. These pathways lead you back to the awareness and acceptance of your divine truth.

Now let me share with you some simple steps on how you can develop your wisdom through heart consciousness. First, set aside some time to connect to your heart. You can do this in many ways. One way is to just focus your attention on your heart, holding peaceful, joyful thoughts.

The next step is when you feel you have connected, to ask a question to your heart. Perhaps you might ask "how may I feel more connected to my heart?"

Now relax and allow yourself to receive the answer. You may hear words, see an image or have a sensing. You may feel the answer. This is the whispers of the heart offering you the wisdom you have asked for.

With your connection in flow, you might take this deeper with another question. Or you might just follow whatever guidance you have received and feel the wonder of the loving counsel you have taken in.

You are opening up a line of communication through the heart to receive wisdom. This will become strengthened each time you utilize this gift.

You may utilize these steps as you desire, for whatever topic you choose. You are developing your innate ability to communicate with the divine through your heart.

Always know that there is never fear or less ness in any wisdom from the heart. There is only truth based on divine principles and unconditional love.

If you feel fear or confusion, take time to center yourself again with your heart. Focus on joyful thoughts that lead you back into peace.

You will find as you utilize these gifts that you will become more proficient in your communications. This than will lead you to further develop other innate gifts and abilities.

You have been given all the tools to discover and develop to navigate in grace through these times of great change and elevation potentials. This is your path of mastery. This is your path of remembering your greatness. Celebrate it. Celebrate yourself.

I celebrate with you this time of blossoming. It is with great excitement as we share together in these great achievements.

The time is now for you to move more easily on your path. You can direct and choose in greater grace than ever before.

Whatever you choose is perfect for you. You learn and remember from your experiences. Your choice to experience is a divine gift. Your choices are honored. You are honored always.

Know that you are perfect. In my heart I know your truth. You truly are the jewels lighting up the pathways of lightness and joy.

Beloveds, let yourself shine. Shower your light upon the seeds of wisdom and let them blossom. Accept in grace the wisdom whispers of your heart. Dance in the joyful radiance of your sweetness. I adore you. Shamon."

With great love,
Your Beloved Mother
